

NEW ALARM OVER CHOLERA.

A GREAT INCREASE IN THE PLAGUE IN FRANCE AND SPAIN.

Two Hundred and Fifty Fatal Cases in Marcellites—The Disease Takes a New Form—Physicians Unable to Cope With It.
MARCELLITES, Aug. 24.—The cholera is per-

Continually increasing here every hour, and the situation is already alarming. Within the past forty-eight hours 200 new cases have been admitted to the Pharo Hospital, and during the same period 200 deaths from the disease have been reported within the city limits, besides 500 in the southern suburbs. The disease is assuming a form with which the doctors are unacquainted to cope. The victims die suddenly, without the occurrence of diarrhoea or vomiting. The patient feels a coldness which cannot be counteracted by the use of reactives or stimulants. Two hours after death the body becomes black. Although the epidemic is not contagious, it is feared that Forty-four deaths from cholera were reported in this city to-day. At the Pharo Hospital eight patients have died. The Government has not yet been admitted. The municipal authorities have voted the provisional sum of 50,000 francs to relieve pressing needs.

Railroad Mechanics on Strike.
MERIDIAN, Miss., Aug. 24.—Mechanics in the New Orleans and Northeastern shops in this city went on strike this morning for two months and twenty-four days. They are paid for regular pay day. There are about 300 on their list, and they need to be stern and stubborn in their purpose. As far as trains come on there are no trains from the Gulf States, the Gulf, Tennessee, Louisiana and Georgia, the Mobile and Ohio, and the New Orleans and Northeastern. The strikers take the engine and the cars and run them to the yard. In the afternoon, four trains are detained here now. Trains from the Gulf States and the Gulf and Tennessee, however, but all passenger cars will be detached. The strikers are sober and quiet.

The Murdered Policeman's Funeral.
The room at 421 East Nineteenth street, the home of Policeman James Norin, who was killed on

The post by the negro Samuel Booker Goode, was performed with beautiful flowers at the funeral yesterday afternoon. Two pillows of roses were the gifts of J. J. O'Connor and the Edward P. Fox Coaching Club of Nineteenth street. Hundreds of people came in from the street to look at the dead policeman's face as he lay in a bed of white satin in a black coffin. Forty old slipshod men, under the command of Sergeant Gates, passed around the body and the weeping widow and her little son. A line of carriages followed the remains to Flatbush Cemetery.

Last of an Old Hell.

The last but one of the old fire-bell towers in this city will come down next week. Yesterday it was jolted off its high bell by a gang of riggers and sawyers. The tower stands in the rear of the house of Eugene Sp. at the Spring and Varick streets, and was built in 1836, three bell years before the first one was erected. Yesterday who had watched at the same place building it four years ago, when the lookout was building. It has been put in in time to toll for Lincoln's death. Experience says this bell's metal is uncommonly true, and there are five tons of it. The tower is said to be 110 feet high.

Want a Way in Local Nominations.

The Irish-American Independents of the Second Assembly District, who were red hot for Blaine and Logan last fall, held a meeting in Kessler's hall, 475 Pearl street, last night, and suggested to the Republican State also denied the nomination of LEVI M. Bates for Governor. Joseph B. Carr for Lieutenant Governor. Carr also said that, in spite of their labors for Blaine last year, they would not support him for Governor this year, and he should shoulder. They hope to be better treated this year, and to have some say about local nominations.
